

When liquid flows, it has pressure to push the ball.
When liquid goes through the spring, there is no pressure on the ball, and the ball plugs the hole, it won't backflow.

